Hebrew and Firaqi Arabic Letter Comparison – One Long Poem
By Shomit Sirohi

I would in philosophy in fact as Althusser and Zizek argue, abstract this a lot, I mean to abstract in the Kantian sense of a priori and a posteriori – first the analytic – Letters then run offs the a posteriori which derives the Letter, in fact Letters, which is like Scholem there in that photo – It is Messianism.

I.

I am in fact a young man,

Wear a beard,

There can be an organic hair growth,

Which is Firaq from commerce,

I mean Jewish commerce,

Is,

This.

II.

Phenomenology of Mind,

In Hebrew Letters,

Even Arabic,

Intertangled,

Images seen on the screen,

Of in fact a man,

Many women,

All walking in diagonal go ways,

Like searching

In poems.

III.

Letter,

Physics,

Organic Language,

Made into

Scupture.

Fragment.

Judaism, is a dense top.

Islam is Christian influenced,

Walking with books distraught,

Both find each other, Shalom.
